By RUSSELL BRINES
WASHINGTON (AP)—Tighter unification of the armed forces and draft law revisions to boost fighting efficiency in Korea were urged today by two Republican congressmen who held key votes on defense legislation.

Ceiling Sought On Income Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Reed (R-Ill.) today proposed to limit the government to a 25 per cent tax on individual incomes, unless three-fourths of the membership of the House and Senate voted for a higher levy.

With Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.), Reed sponsored a similar, unsuccessful move for a ceiling on income tax rates last year.

Under the revised measure he offered today, the top rate could be no more than 15 percentage points above the lowest rate even when Congress had voted to lift the 25 per cent ceiling. Thus if the lowest rate were 22 per cent, the top rate could be no more than 37 per cent.

Present rates range from 22 per cent on taxable income of not over $2,000 up to 92 per cent on all income above $200,000.

Reed, in a speech prepared for House delivery, said these taxes are "a well-nigh unbearable burden on our people and a serious threat to our economy."

Maj. Eisenhower Flies In From Korea For His Father's Inaugural

TOKYO (AP)—Maj. John Eisenhower, fresh from the Korean front, left tonight en route to Washington for his father's inauguration as President of the United States.

"I'm sure looking forward to father's inauguration," he said as he boarded a Pan-American plane chartered by the Military Air Transport Service.

"And I sure want to see my wife and children."

John, who is assistant G-2 (Intelligence Officer) of the third division, is on temporary duty orders to the United States for 15 days. He plans to return to Korea after the ceremony.

He said he had no idea who initiated the orders.

"My feelings about Korea are the same as always," he said. "I'm sold on my unit and I'd like to stay with them."

Los Angeles Teacher Granted New Trial In Sadistic Slaying

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Holding that her murder trial in Long Beach two years ago was an "inquisition," the District Court of Appeal has granted Violet Joan Berling a new trial. The 33-year-old accorrdion teacher was convicted April 20, 1951, of the sadistic slaying of Kay Frances Erickson, 10, a pupil.

The child was found dead in Miss Berling's apartment, strangled in a chair. There were burns on her body.

Miss Berling is serving a life term.

The three-man court yesterday upheld the contention of her lawyers that her trial was illegal because she fainted a score of times during its progress she was "mentally absent," and therefore was deprived of her fundamental right to be physically and mentally present.

Ex-President Hoover In Inaugural Parade

The ex-President's car will be flanked by that of Chief Justice Fred Vinson.

Runs For Mayor

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A political unknown, Robert E. Swift, 47, identifying himself as a hotel clerk, has declared his candidacy for mayor of Los Angeles in the April primary.

Swift was forthright in his reason for seeking the office. He said he wanted to fulfill "a childhood ambition to get to the top." The job pays $18,000 a year.

Playmate's Stab Proves Fatal To Ann Arbor Boy, 7

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—A 7-year-old boy who dared a playmate to stab him is dead, although doctors restarted his heart once after it stopped.

Phillip Bruneau died in St. Joseph's Mercy hospital here yesterday. The son of a laboratory technician at the University of Michigan, Phillip was in the second grade at Stone school, east of here.

At recess Tuesday, according to Sheriff's Officer Harold Swoverland, Phillip dared Lee Fisher, a first grader, to stab him with a jackknife Lee received for Christmas. Lee took the dare.

The knife penetrated Phillip's heart and he fell. The heart stopped. Hospital surgeons massaged it for 20 minutes and brought Phillip back to life, but not for good.

Jet Ace Quits Desk Job And Hitchhikes Back To Korea Duty

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Maj. James Jabara, the world's first jet ace, hitchhiked a ride to Korea yesterday instead of waiting for his scheduled flight, grounded by bad weather over the Pacific.

The 28-year-old jet pilot was the lone passenger aboard a Navy DC6 cargo plane.

Jabara volunteered for another tour of active duty, leaving a desk job at Scott Field, Ill. He scored six kills in 63 missions on his first Korean tour.

Williams Calling For 14 Million Budget Increase

By JACK I. GREEN
LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams today asked the purse-tight Republican legislature for $345,210,000 for next year's state budget, $14,000,000 more than he got for this year.

But his budget request was for $9,000,000 less than he asked for this year in "recognition of the present poverty of the general fund."

He said his request "does not reflect any belief on my part that the real and pressing needs of the state" can be met on the requested amount.

Deeper In Red

The budget message said the state's general fund deficit will hit $90,000,000 by the end of the current fiscal year, next June 30.

Williams' new request, for the 1953-54 fiscal year, would dip the state another $39,000,000 into the red on the basis of now-anticipated revenues.

In other words, if the legislature want to pay up all the state's current deficit and that which would accumulate for the next fiscal year it would have to dig up $129,000,000 in additional revenues in one year. No one expects it to do so.

Williams' budget, as presented by Robert F. Steadman, is much

Alibi Frees Man In Coed Killing

DETROIT (AP)—A 23-year-old suspect in the rape-slaying of Detroit coed JoAnn Carol Gillespie was released yesterday following a successful lie detector test and a proven alibi.

The youth, described as a "rejected suitor" of the victim, was arrested by police after JoAnn's mother said he had annoyed her daughter for months and had attempted to make a date with the victim the day before she met death at the hands of a rapist-slayer.

A girl who accompanied the youth the night JoAnn was slain supported his alibi, police said.

Police declined to identify the youth, listed by the girl's mother as one of her male acquaintances. With the release of the youth, Charles Williams, a 31-year-old auto agency porter remained the top suspect in the slaying.

Police were attempting to locate the driver of a jitney in an effort to run down Williams' alibi.

The suspect said bloodstains on his clothes which police termed identical to the blood type of the slain girl, were obtained in a fight with the driver of the jitney. Williams' common-law wife and mother supported his alibi.

Two Convicted Killers Gassed

SALEM, Ore. (AP)—Two convicted killers were executed early today in the Oregon prison gas chamber after an apparent suicide attempt of one failed.

Executed were Morris Leland, 26, convicted of beating and stabbing to death a 15-year-old school girl, and Frand Oliver Payne, 49, who killed a Portland grocer in a holdup-shooting Jan. 9, 1951.

Payne took a large dose of sleeping pills late Thursday. Injections revived him, but he remained so groggy his execution was delayed half an hour. He finally was carried by two guards to the gas chamber.

Warden Virgil O'Malley said he believed Payne had been saving the pills for some time.

Leland had a long record of sex crimes, climaxed by the fatal beating of Thelma Taylor Aug. 6, 1949, after holding her prisoner more than 24 hours.

Straits Of Mackinac Ferries Set Record

LANSING (AP)—State ferries set a new record in 1952 in the number of vehicles and passengers carried across the Straits of Mackinac, the State Highway Department said today.

During the 12-month period, the ferries carried 794,516 vehicles, and 1,922,715 persons across the straits.

The vehicle total was 16.2 per cent higher than 1951, the previous record year, and the passenger increase was 13.1 per cent higher for adults and 36.9 per cent higher for children.

Boost Of Over Billion Asked In Foreign Aid

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman asked a critical Republican Congress today for an increase of more than a billion dollars in foreign military and economic aid.

Our allies need that much, he said, to meet "certain critical deficiencies" in equipment for their armed forces.

Truman proposed that Congress vote $7,600,000,000 in foreign aid appropriations during the 1954 fiscal year, which begins next July 1. That would be an increase of $1,100,000,000 over the amount enacted for the current year.

Up To Eisenhower

Actual foreign aid spending in the new fiscal year was budgeted at $7,861,000,000 compared with $6,035,000,000 this year and $5,268,000,000 in the 12 months ended last June 30.

A recent Associated Press survey showed that a large majority of Congress members willing to take a stand were in favor of cutting foreign spending, although some defended it as a most economical way to build this nation's defenses against Soviet power.

Since the budget proposed by Truman covers a period after the Eisenhower administration will have taken over, the attitude of the new Republican President will have a great influence on what Congress actually votes.

Helping Ourselves

In his budget message the outgoing President told Congress, with respect to American help to Allied and friendly nations:

1. The U. S. has shipped more than three billion dollars worth of weapons and military equipment to its allies under the two-year-old mutual security program, including 17,230 tanks, 432 naval vessels and 2,673 aircraft.

2. Through the mutual security program "we are helping ourselves just as much as we are helping our allies."

3. European nations have more than doubled their defense expenditures since the Korean War started, but they still require U. S. assistance "to provide the crucial margin of resources" needed for their military buildup.

4. The U. S. contracted for 621 million dollars worth of weapons in Europe during the 12 months ended last June 30 and is doubling the amount of such "offshore procurement" in the present fiscal year, Truman said an important effect of this, by promoting plant expansion, is to increase Western Europe's capacity to produce its own weapons.

Tariff Cuts Advocated

5. France, Britain and some other Allied countries continue to need economic aid—that is, dollar grants—to enable them to support their defense programs.

6. The size of future American

Hannah Studies His New Job As Defense Manpower Chief

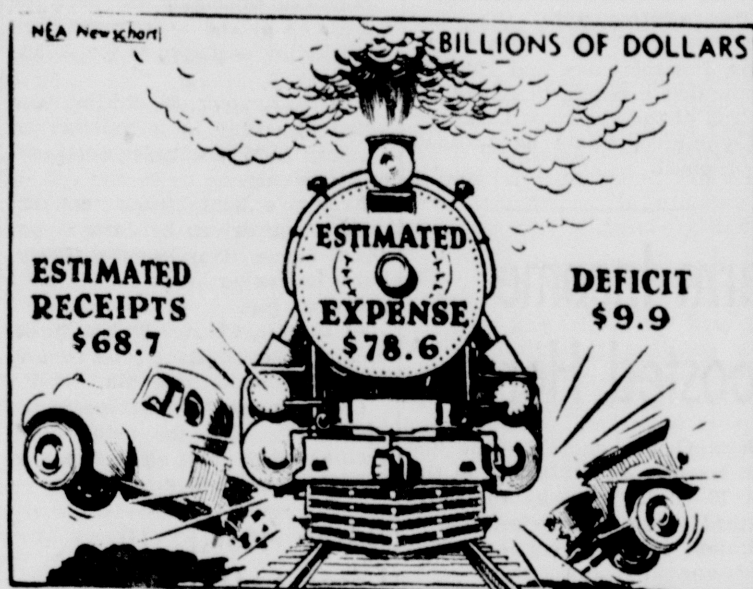

By ROBERT E. VOGES
EAST LANSING (AP)—Dr. John A. Hannah feels he has three main objectives to carry out when he assumes his new job as assistant defense secretary in charge of manpower and personnel.

At his first press conference since he announced he would accept the job, Hannah declared it would be "presumptuous" to say at this time just what he planned to do.

"Changing conditions call for changes," he said. "I'm going to approach the job with an open mind."

In For One Year

Hannah said he would take the job offered by President-elect Eisenhower for one year only.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today laid a $78,600,000,000 budget before Congress, and Republicans promptly cried "fantastic" and promised to cut it sharply.

But that was the customary reaction of Democratic Congresses, too, and they frequently fell short of January pledges to trim away billions of dollars. Only time could tell whether, under the GOP, things would be different.

Eisenhower Works On His Inaugural Speech To Congress

By RELMAN MORIN
NEW YORK (AP)—President-elect Eisenhower consults advisers today on a wide range of domestic and foreign problems in preparation for the first two speeches he will deliver to Congress as chief executive.

He is devoting most of his time to writing his inaugural address and the traditional State of the Union message.

Peace Ideas Unchanged

Apparently in that connection, he had an hour-long conference yesterday with Bernard M. Baruch, 82-year-old elder statesman. In summarizing their talk, Baruch said they discussed military security and "the economic well-being of the United States—questions we've discussed since 1930."

Baruch gave no details, and Eisenhower's aides said they could not amplify. "He (Eisenhower) is talking about a great many things," an aide said, indicating the conferences may have a bearing on the President-elect's two forthcoming speeches.

Detroit Fugitive Caught In Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Kenneth Lee Maurer, 20, wanted in Detroit on charges of slaying his mother and 11-year-old sister in 1951, will be arraigned before a U. S. commissioner here today.

Maurer, listed as one of the Federal Bureau of Investigation's 10 most wanted fugitives, was arrested yesterday by FBI agents at his work bench in a Miami furniture manufacturing plant.

Agents found him after an intensive search and reported he had been employed at the furniture factory since October as a cabinet maker.

The FBI quoted Maurer as saying he dreaded the day when he would be arrested but denied any knowledge of the crime.

The slender, blue-eyed former tree-trimmer and gardener said he had been living in this section more than a year.

Hannah Studies His New Job As Defense Manpower Chief

In the meanwhile, he also will continue to serve as president of Michigan State College but will be on sabbatical leave.

He said after conferring with Gen. Eisenhower he felt his job would be to carry out three main objectives.

1—Utilizing all military and defense manpower as nearly as possible for productive purposes.

2—Creating a reasonably stable, long-range manpower policy for the benefit of young men taken into service.

3—Developing a program to make clear to men in the service why they are where they are and to help them return to civilian life as better citizens.

Ducks UMT Query

Hannah said he thought the Baruch's New York apartment was the scene of three private conferences this week between Eisenhower and Prime Minister Winston Churchill. Baruch was asked whether, since talking with Churchill, he has changed any of his ideas about peace and security. He said he has not. "They are as simple and as dogmatic as the statement that one and one make two."

Always Available

Baruch also turned aside, with a joke, a question as to whether he may take an office in Eisenhower's administration. Smiling, he replied, "As the girl said when they asked her why she never married, 'Nobody has asked me, sir.'"

However, the long-time presidential adviser told reporters with emphasis that he would always be ready to give Eisenhower the benefit of his long political experience, if his advice was requested. His career in government goes back more than 30 years.

He described himself today as "a plain citizen" and said he expected to remain one. But he added, when newsmen asked if he would be available as an adviser to Eisenhower, "I have always been available and I wouldn't be less so to an old and valued friend."

Bombers Collide Over Savannah; One Crashes In Marsh, Other Safe

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—Six, and possibly nine, airmen were killed last night when two huge B50 Air Force bombers collided over Savannah and one plummeted into muddy marshland.

The other four-engine sky giant landed safely at Hunter Air Force Base with a damaged tail assembly and no casualties, reported Lt. Thomas R. Meredith, public information officer.

Meredith said there were no known survivors from the crew of nine on the ill-fated plane, but he said some persons reported they saw parachutes in the vicinity of the crash. He said both planes were assigned to the 96th Bomb Squadron at Hunter and were on a training flight.

Republicans Set For Big Slash In U. S. Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today laid a $78,600,000,000 budget before Congress, and Republicans promptly cried "fantastic" and promised to cut it sharply.

But that was the customary reaction of Democratic Congresses, too, and they frequently fell short of January pledges to trim away billions of dollars. Only time could tell whether, under the GOP, things would be different.

By FRANK O'BRIEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today laid a $78,600,000,000 budget before Congress, and Republicans promptly cried "fantastic" and promised to cut it sharply.

But that was the customary reaction of Democratic Congresses, too, and they frequently fell short of January pledges to trim away billions of dollars. Only time could tell whether, under the GOP, things would be different.

Truman's estimate of government spending was for the fiscal year 1954, which begins July 1. The total was four billion dollars higher than spending projected by the President for the current fiscal year and 12½ billions more than in fiscal 1952, which ended last June 30.

The increases were almost entirely for national security programs and pointed, Truman said, toward a 10 billion dollar deficit 18 months from now.

Truman called for a big increase in foreign aid, mostly for military help to the nation's European allies. But he also included two billions for economic, rather than military, help. Some members of Congress have been urging that all purely economic aid to foreign countries be halted.

Close Scrutiny Assured

The whole foreign aid section promised to be a controversial one. Majority congressional desire, as expressed in a recent survey by The Associated Press, is for reduced spending abroad.

The budget message Truman sent Congress today, 11 days before he leaves office, is subject to revision by the incoming Eisenhower administration, which has indicated it will be scrutinized closely and revised, probably starting in April.

As is customary, the President sent the 20,000-word message to Congress, and did not read it to the legislators himself. It was about 10,000 words shorter than last year's.

The budget called for expenditures in fiscal 1954 equal to $489.15

Hope Dim For 40 On Lost Plane

MONTPELIER, Idaho (AP)—Despite continued reports of various lights and a radio signal in Idaho, Wyoming and Utah, hope that 40 persons aboard a missing C46 would be found alive was beginning to fade today.

Three civilian crewmen, including a stewardess, and 37 Korean combat veterans were aboard the plane that was last heard from over Malad City, Idaho, Wednesday morning.

One of the biggest aerial searches in Rocky Mountain history was to be resumed today after it failed to turn up new clues yesterday. Added to the searcher's worries last night were reports of an F51 Mustang missing in about the same area.

The Mustang was one of a four-plane group turned back by bad weather on a flight from Hill Air Force Base in Northern Utah to Great Falls (Mont.) Air Force Base.

The missing craft C46 was on a flight from Seattle to Ft. Jackson, S. C.

Cuban Consul Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Cuba's consul in Los Angeles, Dr. Juan Manuel de la Puente y Lopez, succumbed to a heart attack yesterday. He was 58.

Dr. Puente Lopez had been inspector general of all Cuban consuls in this hemisphere until 1951, when he was relieved at his own request and given the Los Angeles assignment.

Senate Speeds GOP Control Of 15 Committees

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate was called on to do something today to a plan to boost the size of 10 of its major committees and assure Republican control of all 15.

GOP Leader Taft of Ohio, who is pressing for approval, pointed out yesterday the Senate could not begin to function until committees were set up. And this, he added, cannot be done until their size is determined.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, blocked a Senate vote on the GOP plan when it was rushed to the floor Wednesday.

Margin Too Narrow

All day yesterday Republican and Democratic leaders conferred in an effort to reach agreement.

Sen. Case (R-SD), one of the plan's authors, told a reporter he was hopeful something would be worked out in time for approval today.

Consideration was to begin after receipt, by both Senate and House, of President Truman's budget for the fiscal year starting July 1. No other business was scheduled in the House.

The GOP committee plan in the Senate has a two-fold purpose:

1. To assure a Republican majority of one on each of the Senate's 15 regular committees. Under present Senate rules, GOP control of several would be jeopardized under the existing lineup of 48 GOP members, 47 Democrats and one independent, Sen. Morse of Oregon.

2. To give more desirable committee assignments to freshmen and other senators with low seniority.

Democrats Want Revision

As presented to the Senate Wednesday, the plan would have added two members each to 10 major committees, and cut down five minor ones by two each.

It also would have permitted 18 Republican senators to serve on a third committee. This is the device which would give the new majority party control of all of the groups.

However, Johnson told a reporter many Democratic senators did not consider the plan fair. The Democrats would insist on some revisions, he said.

One Democratic objection that

Plane Shoots Up Tented Soldiers

By FORREST EDWARDS
SEOUL (AP)—Military investigators today studied burned tents and bomb craters at a Korean western front command post where a number of U. S. soldiers were killed or wounded by an unidentified warplane yesterday.

There still was no official report as to the exact number of casualties. Nor was there any confirmation of some unofficial reports the plane or planes were Allied.

AP Correspondent George McArthur said the company commander told him, in a conversation over a faulty telephone line: "They went so fast I can't be sure what they were."

A corps official said the surprised soldiers dived for cover and were unable to clearly identify the planes.

On the battle front, South Korean infantrymen smashed four attacks by North Korean Reds in the eastern sector. Then they chased three of the Red groups back to the Nam River, chopping one to pieces.

An Eighth Army spokesman said South Korean troops stopped the brief but furious three-pronged attack on an Allied advance position northwest of Kansong in the predawn darkness.

New Polio Case Again Reported

Delta County's first polio case in 1953 was reported to the Delta-Menominee Health department this week.

The case is the 57th since an epidemic of polio started here last August. Three deaths have resulted from the disease in Delta since that time.

The new case is that of Patrick Browne, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Browne, 1019 S. 7th Ave. The child, whose condition is good, has no paralysis. He was treated at home.

Five of the Delta County 1952 polio victims still are receiving treatment at St. Luke hospital in Marquette. They are Kay Hoes, 14, of Flat Rock; Ann Schmidt, 1, of Escanaba; James Moore, 9, of Nahma; Miron Larson of Ensign and Lester Lake, 6, of Ensign.

Draft Tightens On College Boys

WASHINGTON (AP)—Draft officials soon may be looking at college students with "something more than an appraising eye"—and tightening up on other deferments as well—the director of selective service says.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the director, said growing draft calls, and legal limits on the ages of eligibles, were producing "a physical—perhaps I should say a mathematical—impossibility to stay within the law without substantial tightening of deferments."

He discussed the problem in an article in "Selective Service," a bulletin of his agency. Hershey declared that "students will not be the only men affected by this tightening." But he also said selective service, "relatively speaking" had taken an "infinitesimal" number of men so far from the colleges, while inducting industrial workers and farmers and facing "an imminent necessity in the not so distant future" of drafting married men.

Deferments of college students for Reserve Officer Training Corps membership alone, he said, total "almost 100,000 more than the number we are deferring in agriculture and industry combined."

"We certainly must look toward the colleges with something more than an appraising eye," Gen. Hershey continued. "The time for appraising in that direction is about over and the time for action is almost here."

Kingsford Hydro-Power Plant Offered To City

The city of Escanaba yesterday was offered, through representation of E. C. Pommerening of Milwaukee, the opportunity to purchase the Kingsford hydro-electric plant.

A similar offer was made to the city by Pommerening in 1951 but negotiations collapsed because of apparent disagreement on the part of the owners.

Pommerening told City Manager A. V. Aronson and heads of several city departments with whom he met in City Hall that he is attorney representing the owners.

Ownership of the hydro-electric plant at Kingsford is divided with 50 per cent in persons connected with the DuPont corporation, 25 per cent in the Grede people of Milwaukee, and 25 per cent owned by Flodin and Thomas of Iron Mountain.

Quote Price of $1,650,000
Accompanying Pommerening to Escanaba for the meeting with the city manager and department heads was Harry Holperin of Eagle River, Wis.

Two purchase proposals were made by Pommerening:
1—Outright purchase by the city at a cash price of $1,650,000.

2—Thirty-year contract in which the city will purchase electrical energy for the period, with four or five mills of each cent paid for electrical energy to apply to the purchase price and cost of constructing a transmission line. The city would become owner at the end of the 30-year period.

Annual production capacity of the plant was estimated by Pommerening to be between 26 and 31 million kilowatt hours.

Goes To Council
Pommerening suggested quick

Court Accepts Pickets' Apology

LANSING (AP)—The unprecedented personal apology of two union officials to the State Supreme Court for disobeying an anti-picketing injunction was accepted yesterday, and the court dismissed contempt proceedings.

Daniel L. Keating and Floyd Harmon, officers of local 614 of the AFL Teamster's Union, appeared before the court in person to admit that they had violated a March 11 order forbidding the union to picket the Dynamic Manufacturing Co. of Big Beaver.

They said they did so on the advice of Rodney Baxter, a Detroit lawyer who is also a DSR commissioner and candidate for recorder's judge.

Baxter was not present at the hearing yesterday, and contempt proceedings still are pending against him.

Water Resources Meeting Slated

Joseph Bal, engineer for the Michigan Water Resources commission, will attend a meeting of the commission in Lansing Jan. 26, 27, and 28. At that time the cities of Houghton and Hancock will have a hearing to show cause why they should not be put under order to construct a sewage disposal plant.

action by the city, but City Manager A. V. Aronson said that no decision can be reached quickly because the proposal must go before the City Council first for consideration.

Should the City Council be interested in the proposal it might then authorize a study by electrical engineers. If the study is favorable and the Council so decides the proposal to finance the project would be submitted to the people of the city in referendum.

The city manager estimated that it would be at least three months before a decision could be reached, he told Pommerening.

After meeting with the city manager and city department heads, Pommerening and Holperin attended a regularly scheduled meeting of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, where he outlined his proposal.

Farm Income Boosted Here

Delta County farm income has been boosted some $750,000 in the past 10 or 12 years by the agricultural extension service, Joseph Heirman, county agent, estimates in his annual report.

By getting farmers to use approved practices, he says, the extension service has helped to increase Delta farm income, which in 1949 was $2,750,000, according to the U. S. 1950 Census.

Planting of adapted varieties, using more commercial fertilizer, artificial breeding of dairy cows, improved feeding methods, control of disease and insects and taking advantage of better market facilities were among the more important practices emphasized by the extension service, Heirman reports.

39 Extension Clubs

"There is still a great deal to be accomplished," the county agent notes.

He has announced that in 1953 the extension service will promote use of more legumes to replace acreage in mixed hay, use of more fertilizer on legumes, continuance of the artificial breeding program, better feeding of dairy cattle, more grass silage as roughage for dairy animals and an improved pasture program.

A continued effort to promote home economics clubs will be made in Delta County by the Home Economics section of the County Co-operative Extension staff. There now are 39 clubs in the county, Miss Ingrid Tervonen, home demonstration agent, reports.

Parliamentary Procedure

In 4-H work, the extension staff looks toward initiating club programs in several new communities in the county.

This year, 4-H members will emphasize food preparation and preservation, clothing, dairying, gardening and potato growing, Fred Barnhardt, 4-H agent, states.

A recreation program including a talent contest and softball league, an officers' training program for improvement of parliamentary procedure, and a camping program are among activities planned for 1953.

Ice And Sleet Bad Downstate

(By The Associated Press)
Michigan's ice and sleet storm crippled large parts of the state into a second day today.

At least two deaths were attributed to extremely hazardous conditions.

In Oakland county 10,000 pupils failed to get to school.

Driving was bad in southern Michigan. Ice on power and telephone lines threatened trouble.

Continuing moderate temperatures provided hopes that an end to the danger was in sight, however.

Southern Michigan was part of a wet belt extending from the Mississippi Valley eastward to the Atlantic coast.

Earl R. Kramer, 36, of Flint, was killed Thursday in a collision on slippery M-25 four miles northeast of Sebewaing.

Kramer's light truck collided with a car driven by Jack Ryan, 42, of Reese. Ryan escaped injury, but a passenger in his car suffered a broken hip.

In Detroit, Charles W. Smith, 64, died of a heart attack after removing ice from his sidewalk.

Conditions were so severe in the Motor City that the union mailmen asked the post office to cancel today's house deliveries.

Study Effect Of School Aid In Delta County

Delta County is one of several counties in Michigan recently selected by the Michigan Department of Public Instruction for studies of state school aid and its effect on educational programs.

Hagley Quarnstrom, county school superintendent, has been asked to attend a meeting of superintendents of other counties selected and members of the department in Kellogg Center at Michigan State College Jan. 14.

The purpose of the study, Clai Taylor of the Department of Public Instruction says, is to recommend a "more equitable" distribution formula for state aid.

A state-wide committee has been studying the effect of state aid on education for several months. The counties selected are to provide the department with a collection of data applying to local communities.

Quarnstrom also will attend the mid-winter meeting of the Michigan Association of County School Administrators Jan. 14. He will serve on a panel discussing "What Next in Michigan" during the schoolmen's meeting.

The county superintendent is scheduled to make the trip with Mrs. Mayme Ross, superintendent in Gogebic County; Henry Haskins, Ontonagon County superintendent; and Mrs. Ethel Schuyler, Menominee County superintendent.

Buckland Heads Michigan Tech's Winter Carnival

HOUGHTON — Wendel C. Buckland, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Buckland of 1310 Stephenson Ave., Escanaba, has been named chairman of Michigan Tech's winter carnival ice revue committee.

The 1953 event to be held Feb. 3-8 will attract visitors from all over the country to Michigan's winter sport paradise. Planned entirely by Michigan Tech students, the carnival features snow sculpturing contests, skiing, winter float parade, skating, and dozens of other snow sports. A queen will be chosen to reign over the festivities, climaxed by the traditional Sno Ball and dance Saturday night.

An intercollegiate ski meet and hockey contests between Michigan Tech and Michigan State are included in the events.

A new innovation, "Boom Copper Day," on the first day of the carnival will feature old-time customs among miners in Michigan's Copper Country. Both students and community residents will help revive costumes and mannerisms common among miners of a hundred years ago.

Buckland is a senior at the college and is studying civil engineering. He is a member of the Kappa Delta Psi fraternity and the Student Council, is president of the Blue Key fraternity, and is listed in "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges."

Buckland's committee is coordinating plans for a revue featuring figure skating events at Dee Stadium, home of Michigan Tech's hockey team.

Bless You, Ike Is Harry's Wish

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

WASHINGTON — Fair is fair and credit's got to go where credit's due and even the Republicans had to admit that was a fine, sporting document on the state of the union that President Truman sent to Congress.

He wasn't sore at anybody, except Joe Stalin. He gave his blessings to those of us who voted against him, offered his best wishes to Gen. Ike, and urged that we all maintain faith in our future as Americans.

This hardly sounded like our Harry, who's been inclined to be a little crotchety lately. It indicated, as he finishes the chore of packing his claw-hammer, or presidential suits, and his wild-eyed, or vacation shirts, that, this is beginning again to look to him like the best of all possible worlds.

So he wished Ike, you, me, and every other citizen Godspeed. In all sincerity, I say the same to him. I hope he has an elegant time in Independence, Mo., strolling the streets without a single secret service agent or newspaper reporter dogging his footsteps.

Not Many Listened

Only things that pained me a little about his message was the fact that he chose to let somebody else read it. I'd have preferred to see Mr. Truman standing there with his eyeglasses gleaming owlishly in the spotlights and hear him stumble a little over the bigger words and the longer phrases. That was one thing I always liked about Harry. He couldn't make a speech, or even read aloud, better than I could.

As it was, Mr. T. sent two copies of his message to Congress, which stopped work to listen. A reading clerk in the House read the 11,000 words aloud to the representatives; a ditto did the same for the Senate. I chose to hear the Presidential remarks from the senatorial press gallery. This seems to have been a mistake.

The Senators' reader did his chore in a flat voice; he read as rapidly as he decently could and paused not for emphasis but for an occasional gulp of water. Not too many senators bothered to sit through the reading. This, I think, was a pity.

About 25 of them stayed in the room, some straining to catch every word, some whispering among themselves, and some utilizing the time to jot down deathless prose of their own. And then there was Sen. Wayne Morse, the used-to-be Republican, from Oregon.

Morse Wanted To Hear

The wispy-mustached Morse still had with him his folding chair of green-painted tin, which he threatened to place in the center aisle if the Republicans refused to let him sit with them. They ignored him; he sat in a standard senatorial seat of foam-cushioned red leather.

The clerk had read about 10 minutes of President Truman's statement and except for him the vast, gold-trimmed chamber was as quiet as the night before Christmas. It was then that Sen. Morse jumped up and demanded orderly conduct on the part of his cohorts. He said he wanted to hear the president's message.

The other gentlemen blinked in surprise. Morse subsided and the clerk droned on. Maybe I shouldn't complain too much about the latter's reading ability; he had to function without benefit of microphone. The Senate operates on the theory that every senator is endowed by nature with his own amplifier.

After about an hour and a half, the clerk got to Mr. Truman's closing phrase: "To him (Ike), to you, to all my fellow citizens, I say Godspeed—May God bless our country and our cause."

Made a fellow feel a good deal better, somehow, about the man who turned out to be a good loser.

World's newest V8 powers BUICK'S GREATEST CARS IN 50 GREAT YEARS

HERE you see pictured the Golden Anniversary ROADMASTER — engineered, styled, powered and bodied to be fully worthy of its paragon role in this fiftieth year of Buick building.

A quick listing of simple facts will reveal just cause for celebration.

- ★ It has the world's newest V8 engine. Vertical valves; 12-volt electrical system; 180 pounds lighter; entire engine is so compact, a new, more maneuverable chassis has been built around it.
- ★ It has 188 Fireball horsepower. A new Buick record; engine horsepower per pound increased 40%.
- ★ It has a compression ratio of 8.5 to 1. Highest compression on the American scene today; bettered fuel economy.
- ★ It has a dynamic-flow muffler. For the first time in automotive history, a muffler with zero power loss.
- ★ It has a new Twin-Turbine Dynaflo Drive. Now adds far swifter, quieter, more efficient getaway to infinite smoothness at all speed ranges.
- ★ It has new braking power. Most powerful braking action of any Buick in fifty years; plus the new ease of Power Brakes, optional at extra cost.
- ★ It has a still finer ride. The softest, steadiest, most buoyantly level ride that Buick's advanced engineering has yet produced.

It has, also, wondrous handling ease, with Power Steering as standard equipment. It has superb comfort. It has sumptuous fabrics and tailoring. And its acoustics are so thoroughly mastered that it may well be one of the world's most quiet cars.

But no listing of facts can do true justice to this phenomenal automobile, or to its brilliant brothers, the 1953 SUPERS and SPECIALS.

And no words can really tell you the beauty you see, the comfort you feel, the excitement you experience — when you look at and drive any one of these big, beautiful, bounteous Buicks for 1953.

Will you come in and see for yourself that these are, in simple truth, Buick's greatest cars in five brilliant decades?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Editorials—

America Needs Justice, Unity And Relief From Demagogues

RETIRING Secretary of State Acheson has voiced angry resentment against critics of the State Department in his closing days as foreign policy front man for the Truman administration.

Acheson described critics of the State Department as "thoroughly wicked" and the investigations to weed parlor pinks and Communist sympathizers from his department as "witchhunts."

In the past the Secretary of State has seldom stooped to name-calling and in his swan song speech to U. S. career diplomats he named no names.

Yet one of Acheson's chief foes has been Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin, who is no stranger to the technique of investigating others on the front pages of the newspapers. When the Wisconsin Senator is the subject of investigation, however, he assails his critics with cries of "smear!"

It is unfortunate that Acheson stooped to the same methods in replying to critics of the State Department. By describing his critics as "thoroughly wicked" he has voiced a vicious and unfounded generalization.

The American people can hope that in the coming four years of the Eisenhower administration there will be born a concept of responsibility rather than hysteria in meeting the unmet challenge of subversives in government.

The extremes of over-statement, the voicing of unsubstantiated charges, the assumption of guilt before trial, are in themselves "witchhunts" tactics that have jeopardized the reputations of innocent persons within and without government.

Americans must be vigilant in the preservation of their freedoms. One of the greatest threats to our people is the irresponsible demagogues who voice slander in the name of patriotism and appeal to prejudice rather than to reason.

The people will look forward with anticipation to the day when those in government will, in the words of the preamble to the constitution, "form a perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility."

Russia Deals Austria Brutal Injustice

WHEN Dr. Karl Gruber, Austrian foreign minister, stood up to address a committee of the United Nations just before the Christmas recess, he was a living reminder of one of the world's worst tragedies of inaction.

For nearly eight years, tiny Austria has suffered the occupation of foreign soldiers from Soviet Russia on the one hand and the Western allies on the other. Like Berlin, Vienna is a divided city.

At first, Russia energetically went through the motions of seeking an Austrian peace treaty. There were endless sessions with representatives of France, Britain and the United States. At one point, there appeared to be disagreement on just five out of 53 proposed articles to the treaty.

But then the talks broke down. Nothing seemed to get them effectively under way again. To break the impasse, the Western powers this spring suggested a short treaty with only eight articles. There were no takers in the Kremlin.

It is pointless to search for the explanation in the East-West differences over specific treaty articles. The real reason lies elsewhere. The Soviet Union never has seriously intended signing an Austrian pact, because it would then be compelled to remove its armies not merely from Austrian soil but from the Hungarian, Rumanian and Czechoslovak territory which serves as a corridor to Austria.

The presence of Soviet armies in this westward-reaching pincer of land on Germany's southern flank is a happy strategic circumstance for the Russians. They are not displeased, either, that the Austrian occupation gives them the excuse to send their armies across several satellite nations. Russians soldiers are an impressive deterrent to trouble-making in those restive areas.

But this callous disregard of international justice leaves Austria groaning under the financial burdens of occupation and feeling steady impairment of the freedom it regained when the Nazi yoke was cast off at the end of World War II.

Gruber, a sane and courageous statesman who often has defied the Reds while right in their midst, warns that the Austrian people may not passively accept this situation indefinitely. It is admittedly explosive.

The Western powers cannot there follow their German pattern of setting up an independent state and eventually drafting a "peace contract" to free it from occupation. For the West holds but an insignificant fraction of Austrian soil.

The play is in Russian hands for the most part. All we can do is exert pressure, tell the world how brutally the Soviets have dealt with the Austrians for their own evil design, and hope that some day not too far off the Kremlin's power will no longer be great enough for it to perpetuate this outrage to justice.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Pentagon records show that Sen. Joe McCarthy is not the only politician to receive a decoration some time after the end of a war. Filed in the archives of the Army is a citation dated June 3, 1919—seven months after the armistice as compared with nine years after World War II for McCarthy—awarding Patrick J. Hurley a silver star.

Hurley, who became Secretary of War and twice was candidate for Senator from New Mexico, received this medal under interesting circumstances. In fact, the wording of the award in itself is interesting. It states that the medal is given for:

"Voluntarily making a reconnaissance under heavy fire on Nov. 11, 1918."

Nov. 11, 1918, as everyone knows, was the day World War I ended. And about one hour before the end, when there was no "heavy fire," here is what happened to Pat Hurley, as told by Col. Wilbur Rogers of the 77th Field Artillery, 3rd Division.

Rogers said that he was stationed 2,000 yards behind the front line when Lt. Col. Hurley and Col. E. St. John Greble, both members of the judge advocate general's office, came up from the rear en route to the front.

"I wondered what two members of the judge advocate general's office were doing up there and stopped them," Colonel Rogers recalls. "I told them the war was about over and that no one was wanted up there, especially army lawyers. In fact, we had instructions to keep sight-seers away."

"However, Hurley insisted on going forward," says Rogers. "He wanted to see the end of the big show."

And seven months later, he got cited for "gallantry in action for voluntarily making a reconnaissance under heavy fire on Nov. 11, 1918."

No wonder the Third Division Association to whom Hurley applied for membership refused to accept the ex-Secretary of War.

MCCARTHY'S MEDAL

Senator McCarthy certainly deserved his medal more than Hurley, and more than Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan deserved the various medals handed him by Dictator Peron and other foreign governments merely because he was the President's military aide.

Because of the many queries received by this column regarding McCarthy's medal—especially since some veterans have been mailing their medals to the Senator—here are the exact facts about the McCarthy award as obtained from official sources:

1. The Navy declined to give Senator McCarthy the Purple Heart for alleged wounds in action. The refusal was based on the fact that McCarthy was not wounded, but incurred a slight injury to his foot while being initiated by "King Neptune" in a bit of horseplay aboard the ship cross-plane tender Chantelaur as the ship crossed the equator. McCarthy was climbing down a ladder with a bucket tied to his ankle during the shellback initiation, when he slipped and broke a bone in his foot.

McCarthy has stated that he carried "ten pounds of shrapnel" in his leg. But he was never wounded and the Navy so found when they refused him the Purple Heart.

2. The Distinguished Flying Cross, when awarded by the Navy during the early part of the war, was given only for rare and heroic action under fire. However, the Navy found that the Army Air Corps was handing out Flying Crosses at a rate of 100 to 1 compared with the Navy, so, on Dec. 18, 1944, the Navy decided to award the Flying Cross automatically to any man who had flown on 20 air missions.

3. McCarthy asked to be mustered out of the Marines in October, 1944—even though the Pacific war was at its peak. Earlier he had got a leave of absence to run against Senator Wiley of Wisconsin though it was against the regulations to run for office while on active duty. Deceived by Wiley, McCarthy then wanted to run again for a judgeship. So finally the Marines discharged him, and it was at about this time that McCarthy first applied for a Flying Cross.

In sending in his application he stated "as an officer and a gentleman" that he had participated in 32 air missions. However, when Marine Corps headquarters processed the application in Washington, it was noted in McCarthy's file that he had flown only in 9 missions. Therefore his application was refused.

4. Last year, McCarthy reapplied for his medal, and through some of his friends in the Marine Corps, got the application on the desk of Assistant Secretary of the Navy Floborg, who OK'd it. Floborg is a former member of the Chicago Tribune law firm, a paper vigorously supporting McCarthy. This was in August, 1952. For some unexplained reason, however, the award was held up until just the other day. Just why it was signed in 1952 when refused in 1944, and just why it was held up from August until December remains a mystery. Naval officials would give no explanation.

Note—McCarthy's claim of 32 air missions conflicts with one of his own campaign leaflets issued in Wisconsin in 1944, which reported: "McCarthy participated in 14 dive-bombing missions." Wisconsin campaign literature also gave him the nickname "Tail-Gunner Joe," though Naval records show that his trips were as an intelligence officer observer.

Front Man For Inaugural Parade Has Biggest Inaugural Headache

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Leading the gala inaugural parade in front of the bands, troops, floats, political brass—even in front of the new President and Vice President—will be Robert V. Murray, the absolute front man of the whole extravagant shebang.

His title will be Grand Parade Marshal, an honor traditionally bestowed upon Washington's Chief of Police.

It's small enough honor for the man who probably has more inaugural responsibilities and headaches than any other official.

For three eventful days he is personally responsible for the protection and safety of an anticipated half-million visitors who will include the nation's top industrial leaders, key politicians from most of the states, diplomats and important foreign visitors from all over the world, and hordes of just plain citizens.

Not the least of his tasks for the big event is an important share of the responsibility, with Secret Service, for the protection of the President. This requires checking every room in every building along the parade route to make sure there is no suspicion of it being used by an assassin.

Murray has to work with the Secret Service screening invitation lists for events which the new President will attend. Floor plans of all buildings in which the President will spend some time have to be studied so that policemen can be stationed at strategic spots.

All routes along which the President will ride, to and from all events, from railroad station to Statler Hotel, from Statler to White House and of course the parade route, will have to be guarded by Murray's men.

Fortunately, those tasks, plus checking an expected influx of pickpockets and confidence men, jammed traffic and all-out celebrating, can't turn Murray's hair white. It's practically all white now.

The Murray seen by law-abiding citizens of the District is a quiet, friendly individual. The town's crooks rate him a cold, deadly efficient operator. They resent his steady rise from the lowest ranks to the top in the D. C. Police Department.

In one capacity or another he has had an intimate part in the police work of four previous inaugurations and knows the problems inside out, although this is his first one as boss-man.

For instance, he remembers the inaugural of 1941 when the crowd almost broke through police lines, threatening to engulf President Roosevelt. He promises that won't happen this time, regardless of the size of the crowd.

Every policeman on his staff will do double duty during the three days. In addition he has borrowed the services of the most expert men on pickpocket and confidence detail who can be found in the U. S. He says:

AWAY IN FRONT of everybody else at inaugural parade will be Washington Police Chief Robert V. Murray (right) here checking plans with George L. Hari, Jr., assistant inaugural chairman.

for all types of crooks. He recalls that at the last inaugural several of the most wanted pickpockets and con-men in the U. S. were picked up here, milling in the crowds.

So They Say

If I took Marilyn (Monroe) out, I'd be conscious of what every man in the room was thinking and also every woman. I wouldn't feel comfortable.—Movie actor Rodd White.

One look (at Korea) is better than a million reports.—Gen. James Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander.

I think that this change brought about by the vote of the American people is a signal to the Democratic Party to look into its own affairs and clean house.—Sen. Pat McCarran (D., Nev.).

I'd say she has a perfect figure—the best body of any girl I have ever met.—Sgt. William Calhoun, speaking of Christine Jorgensen, the G. I. who became a girl.

India is trying to mediate in favor of the Communists. We don't feel that India is our friend—not the people, but the policy of the government has not been friendly.—Syngman Rhee, president, Republic of Korea.

The appointment of Mr. Durkin is an incredible appointment. This is no reflection on the character or ability of Mr. Durkin.—Sen. Robert Taft.

tippling, Murray explains: "We know this will be a big celebration with much merriment. We'll only arrest those who should be restrained for their own safety, and those who are disorderly and threaten harm to other persons and property. That's always our policy."

He's optimistic about the behavior of the crowd, explaining: "We feel sure that the celebrating will be kept within bounds, as it usually is at inaugurations. The visitors are always cooperative, too."

Another of Murray's problems is the spotting of first aid stations along the parade route. Scores of persons usually faint from exhaustion, are injured by the crowds or suffer some other malady from the events.

Providing first aid is a major effort calling upon the special services of hundreds of nurses and doctors who must volunteer their time. Special units will be operating 24 hours a day during the three days.

In normal times traffic in Washington is a serious problem. The thousands of extra cars on the streets make it far worse.

Murray's solution will be changes in parking regulations to ease the strain, the temporary creation of numerous one-way streets and the assignment of more traffic cops to more corners. On Inaugural Day the whole center of Washington will be closed to all but parade traffic for most of the morning and afternoon.

One of Murray's most elite groups includes the officers who own tuxedos. It's the black-tie squad.

Their job is to supplement the Secret Service at all formal functions which the new President will attend. They get extra pay for this and have to have their own suits pressed. But they get a big free feed when the party is over.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

HOW IT STARTED—Dr. O. van der Velde of Holland, Michigan, is credited with suggesting to the State Health Department its establishment of a blood plasma and blood derivatives program.

The story is told by Dr. van der Velde in the January issue of "Inside Michigan."

After World War II the State Health Department made an effort to establish an effective blood plasma program, but by January 1948 had almost abandoned the idea as impractical because they had been unable to obtain enough human blood even for experimental research.

Then one morning the doctor, on a visit to his local hospital, saw something that caused him to exclaim:

"Don't ever do that again!"

Those five words were the beginning of Michigan's blood plasma program.

CAN NOT BE STORED—Continuing his story in "Inside Michigan," Dr. van der Velde wrote:

"In February 1948 the Ottawa County Medical Society, in cooperation with the local chapter of the American Red Cross decided to launch a whole blood program for their people."

The Medical Society appointed Dr. van der Velde to set up the program and act as its medical director. After four months of organization and an intensive educational campaign among the people, the first donor clinic was held on July 15, 1948, in Holland at the Red Cross center.

The people had been told and it was generally understood that no matter how well blood was preserved and stored, it could not be safely used for transfusion in sickness after it was three weeks old. So some of the blood became outdated and had to be disposed of in some way.

DON'T DO THAT!—"One morning I came to the hospital, and here on the ash pile beside our parking lot back of the hospital I saw a bottle of old blood that had been thrown away," Dr. van der Velde reports.

"Something hit me like a bolt out of the blue. I went right to our hospital laboratory director and said, 'Don't ever do that again—we must find some way of using out-dated blood or our program will fail for want of public support!'"

Dr. van der Velde sat down and wrote the State Health Department asking for help. He told them the problem.

They were impressed and urged that the out-dated blood be sent to the state for experimental purposes.

"We have been doing this now for nearly five years and today every blood bank in Michigan is doing the same," the doctor reports.

THE PROGRAM IS BORN—Thus the Michigan Department of Health blood plasma program was established to provide the citizens of Michigan with adequate amounts of plasma and very important blood derivatives of the highest quality—all at no direct cost to the patient.

There are many very valuable unknown fractions in whole blood which are daily being investigated through research at Lansing.

However, five fractions, very valuable in the treatment of disease, are known and are being furnished to every county in the state free of charge.

(Note: Dr. van der Velde refers to plasmas and blood derivatives supplied without charge to each county by the state. He is not talking about whole blood.)

MICHIGAN STANDS ALONE—"All these products are available to any physician in the state of Michigan for the treatment of any resident of the state, and free of charge to the doctor," Dr. van der Velde continues.

"This is the result of blood donations from persons all over the state. Nowhere is this service available but in Michigan. We can be proud of our State Health Department and its blood plasma program."

(Note: Michigan Department of Health blood clinics held in Delta county have never attained the quotas assigned the county. Nor has the county met the established blood donor goals for national defense, which includes supplies of plasma and derivatives to Korea.)

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

practical, practicable.—D. E. T., of Racine, Wis., has asked for the distinction between these two words. Anything that is practical can be put into practice or made applicable for use. Thus, "a practical knowledge of carpentry" means a knowledge which the possessor can actually display. That is practicable which is feasible, or, that is, capable of being done or of being accomplished. A "practicable plan of action" is a plan that can be carried out; it is one that is suitable to the purpose in mind. Practical, when applied to persons, means one not given to theory but to sensible action and judgement. Applied to things, practical means workable and efficient.

pin-money.—J. R., Chicago. The term pin-money denotes an allowance made by a husband to his wife for her personal use; so called because formerly pins were very expensive and a fairly large sum was allowed for their purchase. By extension, the term sometimes includes an allowance to wife, daughter, or sister for personal expenses or pocket money.

hole-and-corner.—"What is meant by 'hole-and-corner extravagance?'"—Mrs. C. Z., Reno, Nev.

"Hole-and-corner" is a homely expression for underhand, secret, clandestine. Consequently "hole-and-corner extravagance" may mean undue extravagance or an extravagance that has been slyly indulged.

Grade school kids should know 4000 words, says a teacher. We'll bet nine of them are, "I don't want to go to school today, mommy."

The Doctor Says... Blood Type 'O' Is Most Ideal For Transfusing Into Other Types

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

With so many people donating their blood, and with increased interest in the blood because of various problems of childbirth and the like, it is not surprising that many questions in this field come up.

Q—Could you settle a discussion by explaining blood typing? Which is more rare, O or AB blood?

A—The blood of human beings is divided into various types or groups, largely as a reflection of whether certain kinds of clotting reactions of the red blood cells occur. The subject is a complicated one, but there are four standard blood groups called O, A, B and AB.

There are more people in groups O and A than in the others: 45 and 43 per cent respectively; 8 per cent of the people are considered to have B blood and 4 per cent have AB blood. People who have O blood are said to be "universal donors" because their blood does not ordinarily cause any reaction if transfused into those who have other types of blood.

Q—My wife has left our little children and gone away to live. She gave our children to her mother, who has had a nervous breakdown. My mother-in-law is mean to the children and beats them all the time. What is the best thing to do?

A—You should go to a social service agency or a lawyer and try to work out some scheme so that you can give your children a happy home with you. It is well known that the health as well as the satisfactory development in other ways of children depends very largely on a healthful, well-adjusted home environment.

Q—Please say something about granular lids. Can this condition be caused by cigarette smoke as well as eyestrain?

Mrs. L. B. A—It is doubtful that cigarette smoke would have anything to do with the appearance of granular lids. In this condition the eyelids become puffy and stick together, especially at night. It can usually be cured rather promptly and successfully by an ointment which your physician can give you.

Q—Can a person catch syphilis from a toilet seat. I have heard that one can.

Reader. A—Some other source of infection is infinitely more likely.

Q—I have type O blood. I have heard that this does not clot. Is that true?

H. H. M. A—No, not unless combined with something else.

Q—Can one get the germ of tuberculosis by handling letters from a patient in a tuberculosis sanatorium?

R. G. A—It is most unlikely. So far as I know, tuberculosis sanatoriums do not have letters from patients which might be contaminated with the germ of tuberculosis.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—County firemen started out for two fires the other day but didn't make it to either.

One truck on its way to a minor house fire lost a wheel, jumped a curb and demolished a shelter for bus passengers which had just been vacated by two youngsters. Another fire truck on its way to a grass fire collided with a passenger car at a street intersection.

Truman Advises U. S. To Join Canada And Build Lakes Seaway

By JAMES C. MUNN
WASHINGTON (AP)—It is not too late, President Truman told Congress today, for the United States to join with Canada in constructing the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The President said in his annual budget message to Congress that the government of Canada is prepared to build the waterway on its own side of the big international river regardless of what this country finally decides.

"I believe, however," he said, "that there is still an opportunity for the United States to join, as we should have long ago, in building the x x x seaway."

Best For Both Nations
And he held out the hope that Canada will permit such participation. He said:

"If the new administration and the new Congress propose practical arrangements for sharing the cost and construction of the seaway, I believe the Canadians will, even at this late date, admit us to partnership in the seaway."

"I hope very strongly that this will be done, for it is clearly in the best interests of both countries that this important waterway along our common boundary should be built and controlled by both countries together."

Sentiment for the seaway has gained strength in Congress in the last year, partly because of a feeling that it would be unwise for Canada to have complete control of the waterway—a 27-foot channel in the river to permit ocean-going shipping access to the Great Lakes.

Rep. Donder R-Mich., scheduled to be the new chairman of the House Public Works Committee, told a reporter it would be "stupid" to permit all Canadian control.

He is now preparing legislation to authorize American participation in the project. The bill will be considered first by his committee.

Started With Wilson
Truman, in his message, recalled that hydroelectric development of the river—the other phase of the international project—already has been settled so far as Canada is concerned.

The Ontario Hydroelectric Commission has been designated by the Canadian Parliament to build the Canadian share of the power works.

New York state is one of two American entities seeking a Federal Power Commission license to build the United States' part of the power works. The other is a private New Jersey corporation.

Many Presidential appeals have been made for legislation to authorize the joint seaway and power project, but Congress never has yielded to them.

Every President from Woodrow Wilson through Truman has favored the project.

Canadian Has Old Pope-Tribune Car

SHUBENACADIE, Canada (AP)—For about as long as he can remember, W. G. Nelson has been bringing his old gas buggy out of retirement each year. The Model I Pope-Tribune came off the production line in 1900.

It was retired after nine years faithful service, but Nelson soon started to bring it out of retirement annually. Still in good condition, the buggy is capable of a top speed of 30 miles an hour. "I imagine that pictures of the car, many of them with tourist visitors sitting in it, now are in about every province in Canada as well as every state of the United States," he says.

The vehicle is powered by a one-cylinder engine, rated at six horsepower, and has a water-cooled head. There are seats for two—but no extra comforts.

By GAILE DUGAS

NEW YORK—(NEA)—There are two distant trends in California beach wear for 1953: frankly feminine or trimly tomboyish. Both silhouettes are important in fashion news.

The trim and tailored swim suit borrows its lines from a small boy's shorts or from the detailing in a man's shirt. And the new, feminine hourglass silhouette is straight out of the plush-covered family album. For this silhouette you can have curves you don't possess because designers have built in curves where they should be.

"Tied" cottons look crisply cool; their surfaces are shiny and are combined with a sculptured finish.

For a ladylike, dressed-up look, there are the soft silky cottons. The textured, tweedy cottons are for the country-style, casual effect.

Sweaters are down-to-earth fashions. Daytime cardigans are embroidered or flowered; for evening, cashmere cardigans get the added luxury of jewels. Even in dresses, suits and coats, the sweater theme reveals itself in cardigan necklines, wool-ribbed edgings and crocheted bindings.

Dots the size of a silver dollar appear in resort-wear prints. California shows a preference for staccato black-and-white, sometimes spiced with a dash of red, orange or yellow.

New colors in the telling of a swim-suit story are the shadow shades — gray, brown, midnight blue and black. These are the colors that streamline a figure.

If you want to go down to a pool but don't want to swim, there are suits for you, too. These are suits in silk and satin, sprinkled with rhinestones or other artificial jewels.

Today's Recipes

Lemon Coconut Balls

Ingredients: 1 3/4 cups sifted flour, 1/4 teaspoon baking soda, 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup shortening, 2/3 cup sugar, 1 egg, 4 tablespoons frozen lemon juice (thawed and used as is from can without diluting), 1/2 cup chopped shredded coconut.

Method: Sift together flour, baking soda, cream of tartar, and salt. Cream shortening and sugar; beat in egg. Mix in sifted dry ingredients alternately with lemon juice until blended. Chill for easier handling. Flour hands lightly and form cookie dough into balls about the size of a small walnut. (If hands are too heavily floured coconut will not stick to cookie dough, so handle lightly.) Roll each ball in chopped coconut. Place balls several inches apart on ungreased cookie sheet and bake in moderate (350°F) oven 10 to 12 minutes. Remove at once to cooling rack. Makes about 3 dozen cookies.

Could High School Senior Score With College Miss?

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.

When a boy sets his heart on meeting a girl, the sooner he does so, the better. Otherwise he is apt to idealize her to the point where all other girls seem dull by contrast. That will be this boy's problem.

(Q) "How can I meet a beautiful girl whom I don't know? I saw her picture and I made up my mind that I should like to know her. After careful investigation, I found out that she is several months older than I and is a freshman at a junior college. I am a high school senior. The college she attends is only about 30 miles from where I live and I have access to a car so I could see her. I know I will be running into competition from a college nearby but, if this isn't too much of a handicap, please tell me how I am to meet her."

(A) If you do not know anyone who knows her, watch to see where she attends church. Then go to the pastor of that church and tell him how anxious you are to meet her. If he thinks you are suitable, he will introduce you.

Meeting her, however, is only one obstacle. A girl who is in college feels much too adult to associate with a high school boy. There is a big gap between high school and college in the mind of a college freshman.

I question whether she would accept your dates, regardless of your looks. She would hesitate to let her friends know that she was dating a high school boy for fear they would tease her about robbing the cradle.

Go ahead, however, and see how you make out. Until you do, your romantic ideal may spoil your high school fun.

Men Talking More; He-Gossip Is Worst

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—This is the era of the "he-gossip."

It is said that modern women now are acting more like men—and men are acting more and more like women.

Rising to the defense of the weaker sex, I would say this is true in at least one respect—women are talking less, men are talking more.

Women used to have to talk about things they didn't know, because their restricted lives limited their knowledge of the world outside their homes. The ladies no longer have to talk about things they don't know, because now they are in a position to know everything.

Busy Poison Mouths
As a result they are more likely to keep their pretty little mouths shut in important matters.

The "he-gossip" is among us in full flower. Do you know one of these busy little poison mouths, the abortive freaks of a sex that used to be known as strong and silent?

The he-gossip operates by inquisition as well as imagination. Suppose you are coming to work on a bus, and the fellow next to you bumps you in the eye with a lighted cigar. You pause at a drug store to put on a bandage, and as you step into the office little poison puss gallops up to express sympathy—and to find out what happened. You explain.

"But it's against the law to smoke on a bus," he objects. "I know it. But this guy was smoking anyway."

"No kidding? You weren't in a fight with your wife, were you?" "You don't think I've been fighting with somebody else's wife, do you? You grumble testily.

"No, of course not," he says, and immediately grabs the lapel of the next man through the door and whispers:

"Look at Joe. Got a black eye. In a fight with some guy's wife, I hear."

"Whose?" "Search me. You don't suppose it could be the bookkeeper's wife, do you? He was dancing with her a lot at the office Christmas party."

Start Counter-Gossip
Well, in half an hour the office is buzzing with the news that old Joe got a lump under his lamp trying to play footsy-footsy with the bookkeeper's hausfrau after dark.

How can a man deal with a he-gossip? The same way women have always done with gal gossip: Start a counter-campaign. For example, tell and office buddy: "As was going home last night I saw little big-ears Alvin bend over and pick up something from the sidewalk."

"What was it?" "Search me. But the guy ahead of him had just thrown away a cigarette, and a little farther on I noticed Alvin was smoking a mighty small butt."

Before long the whole office will believe the he-gossip is so cheap he picks up cigarette butts from the street. And a few may then reach the conclusion that he gets most of his inside information the same way.

China Liberation Is Urged By Scholar

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A well-known Chinese scholar says the return of the Nationalists to the mainland is the responsibility of the entire free world.

Dr. Hu Shih, one-time ambassador to Washington, spoke recently to an audience of more than 8,000 in the packed Armed Forces Stadium. Thousands more heard his address by radio.

He declared liberation of China from Communist rule would deliver 450 million people from bondage and spare them from being utilized for "aggressive" Soviet purposes.

State Board Vacancies Filled By Governor

LANSING (AP)—Governor Williams has appointed six persons to posts on state boards. They are:

Rainey of East Lansing for a term expiring May 25, 1953, and Herbert Pinter of St. Louis to succeed H. J. Hootman of East Lansing for a term expiring May 25, 1956.

Board of Pharmacy—Robert J. Gillespie of St. Joseph, reappointed for term expiring Dec. 31, 1957.

clogged lavatory drain in her home. Legs of the 10-legged member of the octopus family wound around her finger when she poked it into the drain to investigate.

Dr. John D. Mizelle, professor of zoology at the University of Notre Dame, said local housewives need not fear a similar occurrence.

He said the baby squid was of the edible variety imported from the Mediterranean area. He said they have not been known to survive in fresh water.

Poland Pays Part Of 1946 U. S. Bank Loan

Justice Court Busy In 1952

A total of 1,427 cases — not counting the hundreds of petty civil cases, garnishments, etc., also considered were disposed of in Judge Victor Deemer's justice court during 1952, according to his records.

Of this number 809 were for violation of parking regulations and the others, 618 in number, were for petty criminal complaints such as game law violations, disturbances of the peace, traffic violations and family squabbles that got out of hand.

Parking tickets listed in rotation, according to the months were 20, 70, 52, 84, 139, 101, 50, 60, 52, 38, 76 and 67. It may be noted that the number of cases handled were in the summer months and in November when the tourist traffic was heaviest. The same is true with the criminal cases May and June being the months when court business was heaviest. During those times cases of reckless driving were the most numerous.

The number of criminal cases, according to months was 36, 74; 58, 60, 74, 55, 53, 47, 34, 33 and 37.

Navy Discards A Choice Recipe

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Sailors in boot camp today were born about 40 years too late, at least as far as deluxe eating is concerned.

The Naval Academy museum has on display a first edition of the U. S. Navy Cook Book, published in 1908. One savory-sounding dish described as "Training Station Delight" calls for these ingredients:

Sugar, molasses, ginger, cloves, currants, ground apricots, flour, lard, eggs, all-spice, cinnamon, raisins, water and wine. These were to be mixed together, baked in an oven and served with wine sauce.

The academy notes this is "one of the recipes no longer used."

Persian Panther Scares Fisherman

BAHRAIN, Persian Gulf (AP)—Abdulla, a Persian Gulf fisherman gasped in surprise recently when a black panther rose in his boat and eyed him with disfavor. The islands of Bahrain are known for pearls and petroleum, but not for panthers.

This explains Abdulla's surprise when he was faced by the big cat while towing his boat. Abdulla ran for his life. En route he met a posse that was chasing the panther which had escaped from a cage on an airplane taking the beast and a fellow panther from Singapore to the London Zoo. The panther eventually was shot.

Willie Gillespie, of Northland, pleaded guilty in local justice court Wednesday morning to a charge of hunting without the necessary small game license. Judge Victor Deemer assessed a fine of $10 and costs amounting to $7.50.

Gillespie was arrested Tuesday while hunting in the Seney area with a 22 rifle. Harold Peters made the arrest.

Youth Held In Jail On Felony Charge

Wayne Wolf, 17, is being held in the county jail, to face trial in the coming term of court on a charge of taking indecent liberties with a small child.

The defendant was brought before Judge Victor Deemer Wednesday afternoon, waived examination and was placed in custody of the sheriff, his bail set at $1,000.

When New England farmers cleared their land, they often piled loose stones found in the fields at the edges of the fields as fences. Thousands of miles of these stone fences are still in place.

Expects Better Times In 1953

Better times are in store for Manistique in 1953, says Fred D. Heltman, executive secretary of the Top O' Lakes Chamber of Commerce in a New Years greeting sent to chamber members this week.

He cites as particularly good news the prospect of an increase in the volume of business for the Manistique Pulp and Paper Company. He also cites as likely the greatest volume of sales by the Inland Lime and Stone in its history. The Manistique Tool and Manufacturing Company, he adds, is working day and night and is developing into a major industry.

He states that he hopes to have a very important announcement to make in the near future.

"Our city has had its ups and downs for many years," says Heltman. "The year just passed looked pretty dark a few months ago and folks thought we were on the verge of collapse. Cheer up. It takes more than a crack in the jaw to knock us out."

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

Until Wednesday night's home opener against Marquette, the Escanaba Hawks had held their Northern Michigan Hockey League opponents to an average of four goals while winning two and losing one. If the Hawks had hit on a few more of their clear shots and had picked up a couple of key passes in the center the story might have been different. Goalie Ben Artwich had a tough night in the mesh and was sucked out several times, allowing the sharp-passing Sentinels to get clean shots.

Biggest complaint we heard from hockey fans concerned the kids who lined both sides of the rink. Many fans who shelled out for reserved seat tickets spent half the night fighting with the youngsters who crowded up to the boards and obstructed vision of the spectators along the lower bleachers.

Joe Ricci came out of the game with a split lip which resulted from a high stick carried by Arne Ellsworth. The Hawk forward who scored Escanaba's first goal early in the period was banished from the game for the fight that followed Ellsworth's foul. The Hawks got the worst of the deal as Ricci's presence was much more important to Escanaba than was Ellsworth's to the Sentinels.

Canadian Len Webster drew loud praise from the fans for his smooth skating performance against Marquette. The small rink cramps his speedy style but he was skating rings around the best of them Wednesday night. George Schultz, new defenseman, also showed fans he knows something about the game.

The Hawks were mighty eager to impress local fans in their first home showing, and that fact may account in some measure for their defeat. Marquette's position atop the NM standings is no accident and the Sentinels will be tough to beat from here on out. But if the Hawks can get away with two wins in two starts against Portage Lake and Calumet they figure to be in the thick of the pennant race shortly.

Braves Face Invasion By Eskymo Cage Quint

GLADSTONE—Escanaba will be fighting for a .500 cage rating and Gladstone will be shooting to climb over the .500 mark when the two teams meet here tonight at 8:30.

The invading Eskymos coached by Burt Gustafson have won two of five starts to date while Coach Cappy Kell's Braves have split even in four outings.

Both teams have lost to St. Joe. The other Gladstone loss was to the Manistique-Newberry game at Manistique one of the highlights.

Other games in the area will send Perkins to Eben, Trenary to Cooks, Alpha to Powers and Rapid River to Nahma, the latter a key game in the Central League race. Tonight's complete schedule: Escanaba at Gladstone, Iron Mountain at Stambaugh, Iron River at Niagara, Marquette at Ironwood, Ishpeming at Negaunee, Menominee at Kingsford, Newberry at Manistique, Bessemer at Hurley, Crystal Falls at Marquette Baraga.

L'Anse at Eben, Gwin at Munising, Ontonagon at Mass, St. Ignace at Pickford, Soo Loretto at DeTour, Ashland at Wakefield, Chassell at Michigamme, Trenary at Cooks, Perkins at Eben, Felch at Republic, Alpha at Powers, Rapid River at Nahma, Vulcan at Channing, Marquette at Berglund, Doelle at Champion, Watersmeet at Trout Creek, John D. Pierce at National Mine.

Reserve teams of the two schools will open hostilities at 7. Game officials will be E. H. Plough of Mar-

Describes New System To Score Pro Boxing Matches

PATERSON, N. J. (AP)—Commissioner Abe J. Greene of the National Boxing Association today described a new scoring system for boxing designed "to eliminate the disputes of split decisions."

Greene said the system, developed by Benjamin Yesersky, up-state New York sports editor, will be presented to the NBA's executive committee at a meeting in New York this weekend.

Here's the way it works:

Castellani And Jones In Middleweight Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—Rocky Castellani and Ralph (Tiger) Jones, both ranked among the top eight middleweights in the world, have a chance to move into contention for the title vacated by Sugar Ray Robinson tonight when they meet in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

The 9 p. m. (AST) bout will be carried on radio (CBC) and television (NBC).

The N. B. A. ranks Castellani No. 5 in the class and gives Jones a 24-year-old Yonkers, N. Y., Negro, the No. 8 spot. Jones lost a split decision to Castellani last March.

Nineteen members of the national championship 1952 Michigan State football team, many of them first stringers and three of them All-Americans, have completed college play and will be missing from the 1953 team.

The No. 45 on a Michigan State football jersey can be taken to have political implications. The last two wearers, George Guerre in 1946-48, and Johnny Wilson in 1950-52, both were senior class presidents.

Trojans Entertain Norway Cage Quint In Saturday Night Clash

The fluid St. Joe Trojan starting lineup was reshuffled today for the Saturday night home stand against Norway's Vikings.

Coach Tom St. Germain this morning listed Jim Gravelle at center, Bob Sendenburgh and Bill Maycunich at guards and John Martinac and Dick Cass at forwards.

Blessed with more reserve strength than ever before in history, the Trojans are capable of record of six wins and one defeat this season. The Trojans have notched wins over Escanaba, Gladstone, Bark River, Stephenson, Sacred Heart and St. Paul of Negaunee. The latter two wins were scored in the Upper Peninsula Parochial tournament which was won for the fourth straight year by St. Joe.

The Trojans, with all 11 players on the squad seeing action in most games, are hitting the hoop at a 66-point-per-game pace. Trojan opponents have been held to an average of 51 points in each start.

St. Joe will be facing a good club in the Vikings of Coach Allan Ronberg. Norway lost its last start to Niagara but has turned in some impressive performances in the Menominee Range. In one of their best showings this year the Vikes trimmed defending champion Stambaugh 72-54 just before the holidays.

Ronberg will likely start with Robert Carlson, Rodney Carlson, Don Casanova, Jerry VanGoethem and Walt Servia. Reserves available are Joe Dayaert, Don Triebner, Ernest Mattia, Jim VanOvermeiren and Vern Lardenoit.

Zone Defense

St. Joe's big problem will be to solve Norway's usual zone defense that has been a trademark of Ronberg's teams for many years.

The Trojan starting lineup was devised to put three dangerous men forward in Gravelle, Cass and Martinac. All three can hit the hoop with regularity. Playmaker Bob Sendenburgh and Bill Maycunich get the starting nods at guard positions on the basis of this week's practice scrimmage.

The preliminary game at 7 will match the freshman of the St. Joe junior varsity squad against the Escanaba Junior High freshmen.

The main game will open at 8:30, Howard Steinh of Marinette will be the head official.

Harlem Aces Show Cage Magic In Beating Al's

The Harlem Aces provided a four-ring basketball show at the St. Joe gym last night while defeating Al's Tavern 61-56.

The colored Aces opened up a bag of cage tricks that kept the fans entertained and they displayed passing and shooting that ranks with best ever seen in these parts.

Al's stayed with the Aces for a 19-19 first period knot but the visitors began producing cage magic from there on out and were in complete control at all times.

Don Lewis came out with high point honors for Al's with 20 tallies. Burton led the Aces with 17 on the scoreboard.

In the preliminary game Skin-ny's Bar made its entrance into the City League a successful one by defeating Paper Mill 60-24. Tom St. Germain paced Skinny's with 29 points. Ron Noel caged six for Paper Mill.

Second Hula Bowl Grid Game Slated

HONOLULU (AP)—Oklahoma coach Bud Wilkinson's college all-stars will be strengthened for the second Hula Bowl football contest Saturday with USC's Jim Sears in the backfield.

The collegians last Sunday romped to a 33-14 victory over the Hawaii All-Stars, largely on the passing of Illinois' Tommy O. Connell and Oklahoma's Eddie Crowder.

For the second game, the Hawaii All-Stars will get additional help from the ranks of the professionals. Duane Putnam, Los Angeles Rams guard, will join pro backs Eddie Lebaron and Doak Walker, and Dante Lavelli, of the Cleveland Browns, and Guard Hern Clark of the Chicago Bears.

Marquette Posts Cage Win On Late Basket

OMAHA (AP)—Two years ago Glen Sievers sank a long shot in the last two seconds to give Marquette a 57-55 basketball victory here over its arch-rival, Creighton. When Marquette and Creighton met Thursday night, Sievers was ill and Doug Gill played in his place. With one second to go, Gill hit a 25-foot one hander from the side and Marquette won, 55-54.

Pioneers Beat Sentinels 9-6

MARQUETTE — Jackie Ruelle scored the "hat trick" for a third consecutive game in five days here last night as Portage Lake defeated the Marquette Sentinels, 9-6, to go into a tie with the losers for first place in the Northern Michigan Hockey League.

Ruelle hit the netting about a minute after play started for his first goal and Portage Lake never was behind. The Pioneer speedster added two more in the second.

Referee Fred Brunelle called four misconduct penalties on Portage Lake, including two on Mike Bukovich for grabbing his arm and for threatening him. Bukovich left the game midway in the first period, since two misconducts constitute a match penalty.

The other 10-minute misconducts were served by Tony Bukovich for hitting the boards with his stick and by Ed Hermanson for swearing at the referee.

Spartans Open Winter Sports Slate Tonight

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State's swimmers and gymnasts open their season with dual meet competition here Saturday.

The swimming team will hit the water against Bowling Green in the afternoon and the gymnastics team has a night date with Wisconsin.

The wrestling team, beaten by Pittsburgh in its opener, also had a Saturday meeting with Indiana.

Junior Hawks Host To Menominee Sextet

The Escanaba Junior Hawks make their first home appearance of the new hockey season in an exhibition game Saturday morning at 10:30 at the indoor rink against the Menominee Wildcats.

Both teams are members of the Junior Hockey League centered here. Other games scheduled for the exhibition slate are being arranged with Newberry, Stambaugh and Marquette sextets on a home and home basis.

The Hawks are defending champions of the Delta County League which will resume action here next week. All exhibition games will be played on Saturday mornings at the fairgrounds rink.

In action for the Junior Hawks tomorrow will be Mike Goymerac, goalie, Dick Johnson, Wayne Olson, Eddie Provo, Bill Buckland, Bob Rodman, Bill Rodman and Jim Bolm in addition to several newcomers who have shown promise in practice drills. George Schultz, director of the junior hockey program here and a defenseman for the Escanaba Hawks of the Northern Michigan League, will officiate.

Bob Grabowski is manager of the Junior Hawks team.

Bing Crosby Golf Tourney Opens On Soggy Fairways

By RUSS NEWLAND

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Bing Crosby's annual golfing clam-bake began a three-day run today on soggy fairways. More rain was forecast.

Stars and lesser knowns of golf, screen, stage, television and radio faced a slushy first round in the 54-hole $10,000 event for which crinner Bing foots the bills and gives the profits to charity.

Jimmy Demaret, pro winner last year with a 74-71-145 when the second round was called off because of rain, teamed up again today with comedian Bob Hope. They finished second in last year's best ball play with a 134.

Which Eye?

Demaret urged Hope to "hit that ball in the eye." Bob asked: "Which eye?"

The bulky field of some 112 two-man teams was divided, half playing the opening round on the Cypress Point Course and the other at the nearby Monterey Peninsula Country Club layout. They'll switch courses for tomorrow's second round.

After the first 36 holes, the 60 low-scoring teams will play Sunday's final round on the famed Pebble Beach links. All three courses are par 72.

Mangrum Favored

Natty Lloyd Mangrum, former open champ and winner of the recent Los Angeles Open, was figured as the man to beat in the professional scramble. He and his partner, Milt Wershaw of Los Angeles, presented a strong threat in the best ball competition.

Veteran E. J. "Dutch" Harrison and band leader Phil Harris hoped to bag the best ball prize they won here two years ago.

The old master Byron Nelson, out of retirement for this affair, played with San Francisco's Ed Lowery, a former Massachusetts amateur title winner.

Pick Hardened Kramer To Win Duel With Sedgman

By JOHN McCALLUM

NEW YORK (NEA)—Those professionals best figure the indefatigable Jack Kramer will win the battle with Frank Sedgman.

At 31, they are convinced Kramer has another big tour left in him.

Kramer's four-man troupe, composed of Sedgman, Ken McGregor, Pancho Segura and himself, will play from 90 to 100 matches in the United States, then tour South America, Europe, South and North Africa and Australia.

It's a rugged program, all the more reason old-timers think Kramer will cop the duke over the long pull. Mercer Beasley says the promoter-player will lead Sedgman around like a puppet on a string.

Geared For Grind

"In amateur tennis you play maybe 25 tough matches a year," points out the president of the Professional Tennis Association. "Kramer averages 100 tough matches. He's geared for the grueling grind. Sedgman isn't."

Despite Australia's reputation for extravagant devotions to its players, Jack Crawford agrees with Coach Beasley.

"Sedgman is beginning to show signs of strain," admits the former Aussie Davis Cup captain.

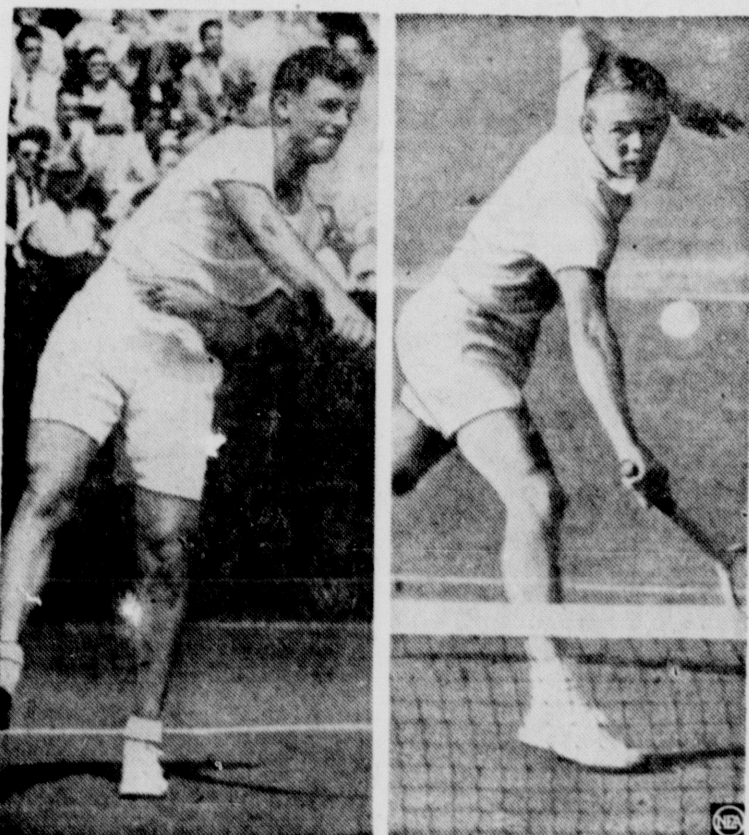

"A year ago you could have blown bugs without disturbing his concentration. Now he seems to be annoyed at slightest noises about the court."

Amateur Lasts Longer

"Big-time tennis today is an extreme physical and mental strain, particularly with young men like Sedgman and McGregor who depend largely on power and swiftness. Both have had periods when their tennis was affected by strained muscles."

"These are factors which may shorten their careers. As amateurs, they could have stayed on top longer."

United States Davis Cup officials ought to give Kramer a medal for signing the Aussie pair. No doubt it came as a devastating blow to their supporters when Sedgman and McGregor succumbed to the lure of cash. With both gone, what now?

ON THIS SIDE OF THE NET — Competent judges say Frank Sedgman, left, will have considerably more trouble with Jack Kramer than he had with the amateurs. (NEA Photo)

Crawford says Australian prospects are far from dim.

"The Lawn Tennis Association of Australia is doing a fine job of training junior talent," he reports. "It allots a certain sum each year to each state for tennis, and that amount is matched by the states."

"There's a constant search for talent that must give youngsters the chance to make good."

"Frank Shields believes Australia will dominate international tennis for the next 10 years."

"He could be right, but I think he is too pessimistic."

"I think American tennis will come back."

"It slipped somewhat because top liners who set the standard for the rest to aim at have turned professional quite young. Ellisworth Vines turned pro at 21. He was followed by Don Budge, Bobby Riggs, Jack Kramer and Pancho Gonzales when they were at the top."

"Amateur champions raise tennis standards by letting others play against them frequently. Sedgman helped McGregor this way. I feel this is quite an important factor in our healthy state of tennis, and, conversely, in the United States' comparative slump."

A challenging tone creeps into Crawford's words when the matter of the Aussies' amateur status comes up.

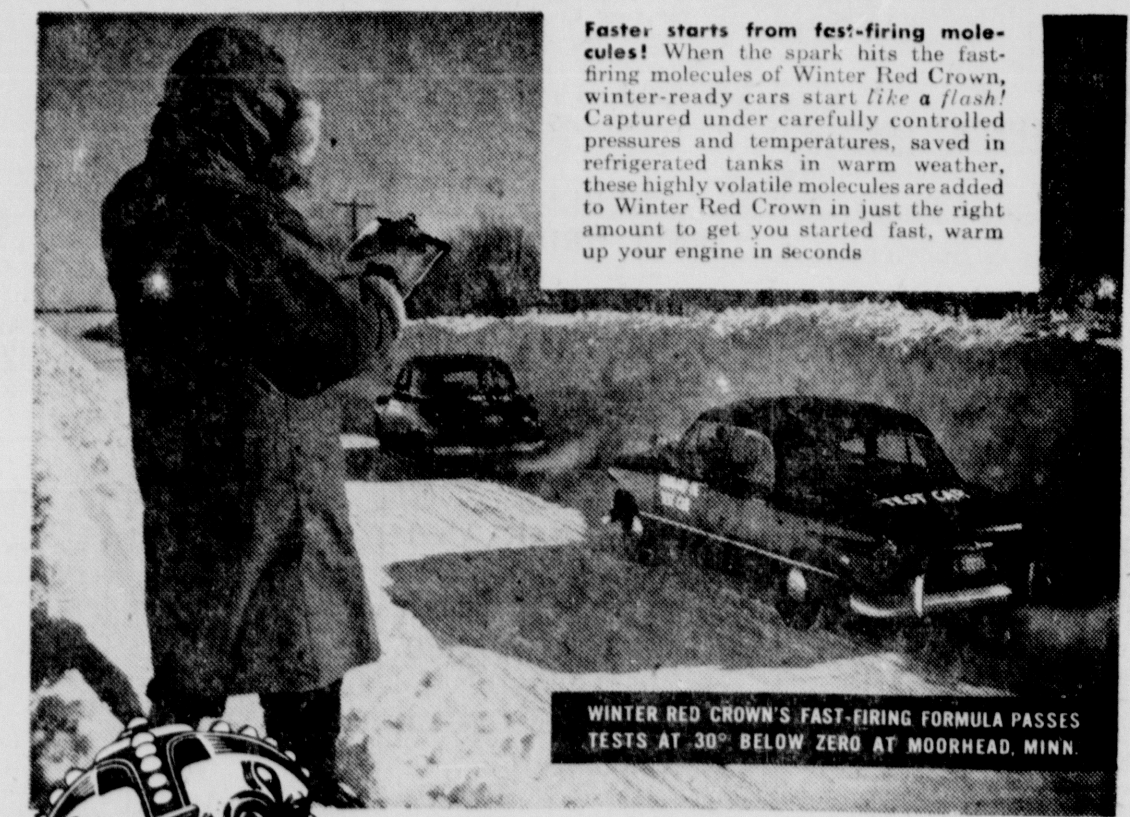

"American authorities holler that we have an advantage of being employed by tennis firms and thus can devote most of the time to the game," he bristles.

"For as long as I can remember, U. S. stars have been technical advisers to sporting goods firms and collect annual handouts that make Australians go slightly green."

"The American system, officially frowned on, of paying liberal tournament expenses to players, also puts the stars on a nice financial basis that enables them to follow the sun and the tournaments without a care in the world."

Controlled Television Best Bet To Win

TV Grid Battle Rages On

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National College Athletic Association faces a decision late today on whether it should keep a tight hold on televising college football games.

The best guess on the outcome: another thumping verdict for controlled television.

A substitute motion by Pennsylvania, seconded by Notre Dame, to allow each college to make its own TV arrangements, seemed likely to attract little support.

No definite time was set for the vote, but 4 p.m. (CST) or later appeared to be a good guess.

Fans Complain
Although many television fans have complained about the NCAA football diet that, generally speaking, gave them one national telecast game a week, the TV committee stuck by its guns Thursday in a 39 page report.

"Television continues to be a serious threat to the welfare of college football," the report said, and concluded:

"Supervision of college football telecasts must be maintained."
In a roundtable discussion, Francis Murray of Pennsylvania and Ed (Moose) Krause and The Rev. Edmund Joyce of Notre Dame argued that the American way is to have free competition. But no other college official rose to support them.

Father Joyce took exception to one sentence in the report which read:

Slap On Wrist
"We regret that two institutions—the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Notre Dame—saw fit repeatedly to attack the motives of their fellow members to bring discredit upon a program which had the backing of an overwhelming majority of the NCAA."

"Infelicitous wording," Father Joyce called it. He added:

"The University of Notre Dame certainly is not attacking the motives of the television committee. We have never done anything to sabotage the program."

Robert A. Hall of Yale, chairman of the committee, said he would refer the sentence to the group again. But he gave his opinion on the spot.

"I consider it a temperate statement."

A special NCAA committee, set up to survey how much time is being spent practicing and playing sports, came up with recommendations for some season limits.

Season Limits
It suggested that no more than 10 regularly scheduled games be played in football, with nine games the mark to shoot at. Basketball, it said, should be held to 26 games, plus Christmas holiday tournaments.

Since the words "regularly scheduled" were used, this would leave the way open for post-season football bowl games or NCAA basketball tournaments.

As for practicing, the committee suggested fall football practice not begin before Sept. 1, and basketball practice not start before the third full week in October.

It would take at least a year to get the rule changes made a part of the constitution.

A special committee of football coaches proposed a code of ethics. Among the proposals: don't criticize fellow coaches, don't predict the results of games for newspapers, don't criticize a player or an official in public.

Canadians Lead 67th Bonspiel

DETROIT (AP)—Paced by the defending champion Roney Rink of McIntyre, Ont., Canadian curling clubs today went into second round competition favored to win the Detroit Curling Club's 67th International Bonspiel.

Winning 15 of 24 opening day matches yesterday, Canadian curlers captured the J. J. Ahern Trophy for the fourth straight year.

The McIntyre Rink, captained by Lloyd Roney, won its first round match 14-12 from the Joseph McGlynn Rink of Detroit. Roney came back to win its second round match, 13-9, over the Murray McPherson Rink of London, Ont.

Winners of yesterday's first round matches meet today and yesterday's defeated Rinks start consolation play.

The four day Bonspiel ends Sunday when the winners of the unbeaten bracket meet the winners of the consolation bracket in trophy competition.

Red Wing Rookie Goalie In Shutout

(By The Associated Press)
Glen Hall, filling in brilliantly for the injured Detroit goalie, Terry Sawchuck, turned back the Boston Bruins Thursday night, 4-0. The shutout was the first of his five-game National Hockey League career.

Hall has allowed only eight goals. The only game he lost was a 2-0 decision to Montreal.

The triumph increased Detroit's first place margin over the idle Chicago Blackhawks to six points. Montreal pulled to within one point of Chicago by tying the tail end New York Rangers, 4-4. The Rangers gained a stalemate on last period goal by Paul Ronty and Hy Buller while Paul Masnick of the Canadiens was in the penalty box.

Cousy Leads Celtics To Overtime Victory

(By The Associated Press)
The Boston Celtics still hold a one game lead in the eastern division of the National Basketball Association today chiefly because of Bob Cousy.

Cousy poured in 11 points in an overtime period Thursday night to spark his club to an 88-85 victory over the Rochester Royals in the opener of a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden. The New York Knicks trounced the Milwaukee Hawks, 81-68, in the second game.

Lakers Lose
In the only other league game, the Syracuse Nationals defeated the Minneapolis Lakers, western division pace-setters, 75-67, on the winners' court.

The Celtics were forced into the extra session when the Royals' Arnie Johnson tallied on a layup with only three seconds left in regulation play. But then Cousy tore the game wide open as he dropped in one basket and nine of ten free throws. Teammate Ed Macauley was the game's high scorer with 28 points.

Top NBA Scorer
Cousy scored 27 points, giving him 741 for the season, tops in the NBA.

The Knickerbockers had rough going for awhile against Milwaukee. The Hawks led 41-38 early in the third period but the New Yorkers rallied to take a 50-49 advantage at the end of three quarters and salted the game away in the final period.

Personal fouls hampered Minneapolis against Syracuse. Vern Mikkelsen and George Mikan both were banished with six personals late in the game.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Don't envy the college football coach—it's a life of hard knocks and few rewards, says Carl Snavely, outgoing president of the American Football Coaches Association.

You're on top of the world today and a bum tomorrow... you have to win half your games or else... chances are you're through before you've hit your prime.

Snavely, himself now out of a job after brilliant successes at Cornell and North Carolina, painted this depressing picture Thursday night in an address at the annual coach of the year dinner.

Munn Honored
Congratulating Michigan State's Clarence (Biggie) Munn, the 1952 coach of the year, the white-haired former Tarheel mentor said:

"Some of our great coaches win their share and he's on top of the world. Then a new hidden danger besets him, envy and jealousy on the part of important individuals, and one such enemy high in the university family, one displeased man on his staff, can bring disaster to the best of coaches."

Won Two, Lost Six
Snavely spoke as if drawing upon his own experiences. He was let out at North Carolina after winning two games and losing six last fall. He has a faculty status at reduced salary if he wants it. But, at 54, he's looking for another coaching job.

Munn, who coached Michigan

State in an unbeaten season and the national championship, received the coach of the year award from vice-president-elect Richard M. Nixon.

Munn was named in a poll conducted by the New York World-Telegram and Sun and Scripps Howard newspapers.

Adrian College Sets Single-Game Record

ADRIAN (AP)—Adrian has posted a brand new, single-game scoring record today — and reserves played half the game. The new record was set as Adrian rolled over Cleary Business College of Ypsilanti, 92-29, here last night.

The 92 points broke a record of 84 established only Tuesday against Olivet.

The varsity rolled up a 24-4 margin in the first quarter and then ran it up to 43-9 before retiring at the half and turning the Ypsilantians over to the reserves.

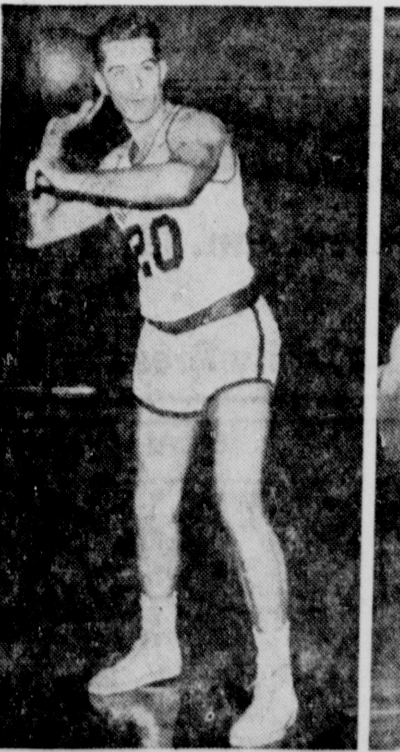

Bob Orman and Hyento Lyle tied for scoring honors with 15 each.

Spartans Take On Iowa Quint

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State and Iowa, both with a .500 mark in the Western Conference basketball race, will battle each other for a chance to move into the first division here Saturday night.

The two teams, along with Ohio State, have won two and lost two in the Big Ten. All three share in a tie for fourth place.

Iowa, with its tall talent gone this season, has settled for an offense built around speed and tricky ball-handling.

Leading scorer for Iowa has been Forward McKinley (Deacon) Davis, third in the conference scoring race with 85 points at the last reckoning.

Michigan State will make its bid with the height of Bob Armstrong, the six foot eight inch center, and the scoring of forward Al Ferrari, ninth in the Big Ten scramble for points with 61 points.

Wayne Cagers Remain Unbeaten After Scare

DETROIT (AP)—Wayne University's basketball team still is unbeaten, but Illinois Tech threw a scare into the Tartars for almost three quarters here last night.

Wayne finally came out on the long end, 75-57, but the Chicagoans led 35-29 at the half and were still out front five minutes after the third quarter got under way.

Bobbling passes and shooting sloppily, Wayne looked as if it might lose its first game in eight starts until it got its offense clicking in the third period. Then the Tartars jumped ahead and stayed there, with Center Charles Primas dropping in 20 points.

The loss was Tech's third against six victories. Forward Bob Cassell contributed 15 to Tech's losing cause.

Pipeline For Oil, Not Gas

A published report that natural gas would be piped through the Upper Peninsula, making a supply of cheap fuel available to residents of this area, was discounted today by local railroad representatives who reported that the plan is for the construction of a 30-inch pipeline to carry crude oil, not natural gas.

The Anderson Bros. Corp., of Houston, Texas, reportedly has a contract to construct the pipeline from a point near Ashland, Wisconsin to Sarnia, Ontario, by way of the Upper Peninsula and the Lower Peninsula of Michigan. The line would pass through points in Delta County.

Officials of the E&L railroad and the C&NW railroad in Escanaba reported that in their discussions with the pipeline contractor they were advised that the pipeline would carry crude oil.

The pipeline is scheduled for completion the latter part of 1953. G. C. Stuart, superintendent of the Peninsula Division, Chicago & North Western Railway, said his file shows that the line is to be built to carry oil. Thirty-inch pipe is standard for carrying crude oil, he added.

Each pipe section will be 40 feet long, made of steel, and will weigh 3600 pounds. Arrangements are being made with the C&NW and other railroads in the U. P. for locations where the pipe can be stored.

Named as supply sites are Crystal Falls, Beaver, Ralph, Watson and other locations.

Emil Christensen, general manager of the E&L railroad, said the pipeline probably would cross the E&L right of way between Mashek and Watson.

There is no natural gas pipeline extended to Duluth or Superior now but a crude line has been built to Superior.

Republicans Prepare To Use Ax On Budget

for every man, woman and child the Census Bureau estimates will be in the United States on Jan. 1, 1954, half way through the 12-month budget period.

Nothing On Tax Relief
The President said 73 cents out of every dollar in the budget would go toward programs directly related to national security, and 14 cents more toward paying for past wars.

The President made no proposals for increased taxes. But he told a Republican Congress whose leaders have been talking wistfully of a tax cut:

"I do wish to make it clear that in my judgment it would not be wise to plan for a large budget deficit during a period when business activity, civilian employment, and national income are reaching unprecedented heights." It would still be "the course of prudence and wisdom" to strive for a balanced budget, he added.

The dominant feature of the budget was military costs.

Weapons Still Needed
Truman predicted that expenditures for military services in fiscal 1954 would reach $46,296,000,000—exclusive of atomic energy outlays of $2,700,000,000. That compares with $44,380,000,000 in the current fiscal year and $39,727,000,000 in fiscal 1952. The President indicated that atomic energy expenditures would soon result in more weapons, with atomic plant expansion added.

Altogether, the President said, national security programs would add up to $57,300,000,000—73 per cent of the predicted outlay for the year. That included military services, international security and foreign relations, atomic energy, defense production and economic stabilization, civil defense and merchant marine activities.

"This is an expensive program," Truman said, "but our national security depends on it...until the free world is secure against the Communist menace."

Past Wars Costly
An additional 11 billions, or 14 per cent of the budget, would largely be chargeable to past wars. This was for interest on the national debt and veterans' services and benefits.

All other government expenditures in fiscal 1954, Truman said, would come to $10,300,000,000, about the same as in the current fiscal year and $1,300,000, more than in fiscal 1952. This amounted to 13 per cent of the total.

This was the division of military services spending: Air Force $17,470,000,000; Army $15,358,650,000; Navy $11,804,000,000. Truman said this was to bring the Air Force in fiscal 1954 up to 133 wings of its 143-wing goal, the Army to 20 divisions, the Navy to 904 combatant vessels with an air arm of 275 billion dollars.

Boost Of Billion For Foreign Aid Asked By Truman

aid programs "will depend on the success of efforts to increase the level of U. S. imports and U. S. private and public investment abroad." The Truman administration has long advocated cutting tariffs to open American markets more freely to foreign goods.

The retiring President also recommended increasing funds for U. S. foreign propaganda and information programs to a total of 135 million dollars in the next fiscal year. State Department officials said the department has had $95,700,000 for such work in the present fiscal year. The increase of about 40 millions would be used to provide more "Voice of America" broadcasting stations abroad and to enlarge scheduled operations.

Other Countries Helped
After reviewing the progress of defense preparations in the North Atlantic Treaty region (Western Europe, Greece and Turkey), the President gave this accounting of accomplishments in other areas of the world:

Middle East—The U. S. is providing Point Four technical assistance—such things as increasing food production and modernizing sanitation—in most Middle Eastern countries. It is giving limited economic aid to Israel and certain Arab states and helping the relief of Arab refugees from Palestine.

Indochina—U. S. aid in the form of weapons and military equipment has been "a crucial factor" in strengthening French and native forces "in their fight against a powerful, Communist-led revolt."

Western Pacific—The security of Formosa "has been markedly increased" and Communist-led uprisings in the Philippines have been cut "to small proportions through the energetic effort of the Philippines government, aided by U. S. military equipment."

Asia—American economic aid to India and other Asian nations "is helping them to continue the progress they have already made toward alleviating famine and disease xxx"

Latin America—The U. S. has helped finance economic development mainly through Export-Import Bank loans.

Wall Street

By RADER WINGET
NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was lower today and staged a moderate sell-off just after President Truman's budget message was made public shortly after noon.

The decline was not extensive, but within a few minutes after it was disclosed that peak spending was forecast with a deficit of nearly ten billion dollars, prices in key areas were marked down.

Price changes hanged down to between 1 and 2 points at the most. Gains were limited to less than a point.

Lower stocks included Sinclair Oil, American Airlines, Lowe's, Consolidated Natural Gas, Dome Mines, Allied Chemical, American Woolen, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodyear, and Radio Corp. Armour & Co. common was higher after directors declared a dividend of $3 on the $6 preferred, the first payment since January of last year when $3 was also paid on arrears.

Williams Calling For Big Increase In State Budget

less than state agencies asked for and the governor said he did not think their requests were unreasonable. They asked for $445,000,000.

Federal Funds Help
For the actual operations of state agencies, Williams asked $172,700,000, $11,400,000 more than the legislature appropriated for this year.

He seeks $12,500,000 for construction and improvement of state buildings and institutions, $5,400,000 more than the legislature allowed this year. Details of this will come next week.

The budget includes $160,000,000 in benefits to local governments, a reduction of $2,500,000, due largely to increased Federal social security payments and $1,000,000 less state school aid under the sales tax diversion amendment.

In addition, Williams would spend $13,000,000 for construction out of the Hospital Building Fund bond issue, a non-general fund item.

Mental health funds would be raised $3,500,000, education, $2,500,000, public health, $1,100,000 and corrections, $700,000, or seven per cent.

Public welfare was cut $2,500,000 because of more Federal funds.

More Troopers Wanted
The budget contained no additional money for prison construction, but Williams said he may later ask for about $1,000,000 for this purpose.

He proposed to add about 960 more employees for the mental hospital.

Williams also asked funds to enlist 143 more state policemen. His civil defense request was cut from last year's $770,000 to $287,000 because, he said, there is public apathy to the program and the
